Mrs. Snow

We have been talking about wind this week. We tested our hypothesis on what will and will not blow. We saw a balloon suspended mid air with a fan. We made a ping pong ball hover in the air using a blow dryer. Mrs. Snow even gave each of us a ping pong ball so that we could try it at home.

In art we made wind socks that we played with during recess on Wednesday and Thursday we made pinwheels to use in Thursday's breezes.

We have added three more sight word songs this week: and, am and on. Please help your child notice these new words as you read together. We practiced changing the first letter in look to create more words that we can read. We also added letters to and to see what words we could build and read.

Jesus Time

This week we talked about the events of Easter evening. Two disciples were walking and talking about the events of the weekend. As they were talking they were joined by someone they didn't recognize. He walked with them and used the scriptures to explain how all the events had been foretold. Upon reaching their destination they invited Him in to eat with them. As He broke the bread and blessed it they recognized Jesus. Jesus immediately disappeared. The disciples ran the seven miles back to Jerusalem to share the news with the other disciples. Let us share the news like the disciples.

Miss Linse

In 3K we created a fun dandelion art project we are excited to see in the hallway. We participated in a school wide tornado drill in honor of severe weather awareness week. We are continuing to practice our numbers, shapes, and letters. During Jesus time, we talked about the Last Supper and how when Jesus went to pray he encouraged the disciples to pray so that they did not follow into temptation and He wants us to do the same. In Kindergarten, we took our standardized tests this week. We did a great job being focused. During Jesus time, we talked about the Last Supper and how when Jesus went to pray he encouraged the disciples to pray so that they did not follow into temptation and He wants us to do the same. We finished our Superkid units on the letters P/V/W and took our next progress test Friday. We start our next Superkid units next week. We also had a lot of fun using Q-tips to create our dandelion art project.

1st/2nd
Mrs. Fritsch

This week we heard and acted out how Jesus was in front of Pilot and Herod. Pilot found nothing wrong with Jesus, Herod wanted Jesus to do miracles and entertain him, and the church guys wanted Jesus crucified! Jesus willing went to the cross to shed His blood to cover our sins, yours and mine. We have been taking the Iowa Achievement Tests all week, but managed to do a Spelling list, math lessons, a couple art projects, and a couple science activities. New Spelling words for next week, and a new memory verse. Come hear the Handbells and Choir on Sunday, at 9am!

3rd/4th Grade
Mrs. Schram

We have dedicated our lunch hour to watching a documentary on the Titanic. April 10, 1912 she set sail for New York, early morning, April 15, she sank to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean. Achievement tests have been taking up a good portion of our mornings. West Bloomfield track and field day is Friday, May 18th. We have signed up for the events and activities. They have a music activity where a student plays an instrument before a music judge. I have signed up the third and fourth graders to play an individual piece on their recorder. Your child will need to pick a piece of music and practice. The other activities are tug-a-war, base running, long jump, softball throw, etc...

5th/6th Grade
Mr. Snow

We were busy all week with achievement testing. We had some visits from the middle school band instructor who talked to the 5th graders about the band program for next year. We hopefully started our new book in Reading class, The Magician's Nephew. It tells the story of how Narnia was created. Progress reports come home next Wednesday. Have a great weekend!

7th/8th Grade
Mrs. GeRue

Achievement tests took up a lot of our time this week. Next week we should be on a regular schedule.
