If you've ever seen the painting, Rock of Ages, you'll know it as a picture that expresses Christian security. The painting shows a woman in the midst of a terrible storm. The woman is clinging firmly to the Cross. Her face tells us that she knows the Cross will hold her securely in spite of the violent storms around her.

It seems as if we experience cataclysmic events throughout our country all of the time. Hurricanes seem to be battering our shores at regular intervals. Wild fires out west are reeking havoc in CA, OR, CO, WA and other states. Not only does the weather throw us great challenges from time to time, but our own culture seems to be in a sea of turmoil at every turn. Riots, vandalism, and looting seemingly happen everywhere. Things we used to value and hold dear no longer are seen as important by much of our country. Is it any wonder that our family structure is also being tossed about in a sea of uncertainty? And as a result, our stress level seems to be going through the roof!

We might rightly ask, to what can we hold on to in times of stress? Listen to the words of the Apostle Paul. In spite of the tremendous opposition, persecution, and affliction Paul was enduring, he was able to write these words to young Timothy just prior to being executed, "...I know whom I have believed and am convinced that he is able to guard what I have entrusted to him for that day." Paul also encouraged Timothy to, "...hold fast the words I taught you, as the example for you to follow, and stay in the faith and love that are ours in union with Christ Jesus."

Note the pronoun in Paul's words. He does not say, "I know what I have believed," but "I know whom I have believed." The supreme object of Paul's faith was Jesus Christ! He entrusted his life to the Good Shepherd, whom he knew and loved as the One who, "...laid down his life for the sheep." Paul could obviously say with confidence, just like King David, "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want..." Paul knew the Shepherd's promise: "My sheep shall never perish, neither shall anyone snatch them out of my hand."

The comforting words of Paul remind us once again that we can be calm and confident in the midst of calamities and troubles! We can trust our very being to the Lord who said, "I have redeemed you; I have called you by name; you belong to me." And so in every circumstance, we rejoice with Paul, saying, "I know whom I have believed."

Behind that pronoun stands the power, the love, and the mercy of Him who has promised to see us through whatever life may hold in store for us. Behind that pronoun stands Almighty God Himself, "...with WHOM nothing is impossible." He has pledged Himself to be with us every step of our lives. And you can't find a greater source of security than that!

Pastor Munding

Happy October to you all.

Well, here we are beginning the month of October. I love this time of year. The temperature is dropping. The leaves are changing and beginning to fall. The bow hunters are out. The farmers are out gathering in the crops. This is a great time of year to recognize the blessings that we receive from our loving God.

We are finishing up our first month of face to face instruction. There has been a lot of work that has taken place in order to keep everyone safe. We thank the Lord for blessing our efforts so far. We are told that it is not a matter of "if" but "when" we will have to some "quarantining" and "on-line instruction". We want to stay "face-to-face" as long as possible because of the benefits to our students and their families.

We had a scare with our kindergarten class early this week. We were told that they would have to do a two-week quarantine. Miss Linse worked late on Monday to get packets ready to deliver to families on Tuesday. But, after the county consulted with the state, it was decided that the whole class did not have to stay at home. We were happy to have them back in the building on Wednesday. We pray that the Lord would bless us with continued good health.

Our girls our into their volleyball season. We combine with All Saint Catholic School in order to have full A and B squads. The teams are doing quite well. Way to go, girls! We thank Mrs. Fritsch for coaching. We also thank Miss Linse and the other athletic director and coaches from All Saints who make this program possible.

We are pleased to announce that we have purchased new laptops for our 3rd and 4th graders with federal ESSER funds. Now we are "one to one" in grades 3-8.

I would like to remind everyone that "in person" worship and Sunday School is currently taking place. I encourage you to take advantage of these opportunities to worship and grow in your faith.

Watch for upcoming information about St. John hosting a "Trunk or Treat" event for Halloween.

Have a great October. Enjoy the fall. Stay safe. Thanks the Lord for all our blessings.

I am yours in Christ's service.

The LORD
will watch over your coming and going both
now and forevermore.

Psalm 121:8, NIV

Divine Love

Human Care

Scripture Reading:

1 Thessalonians 2: 1-8

In verse 7 of the reading above, the apostle Paul says: "We were gentle among you, like a nurse tenderly caring for her own children."

When you were a child, did you ever go to the doctor's office? Perhaps a doctor visited you in your home. They used to do that a long time ago.

If you went to see the doctor, did you like the doctor, or did you prefer the nurse? Doctors are very caring people, but sometimes they can be scary to a child. But the presence of a nurse helps considerably.

A doctor tells you that something is wrong. A doctor diagnoses a disease. A doctor prescribes a remedy. A doctor says you must take awful-tasting medicine. A doctor might operate on you.

But a nurse has a different role. A nurse stays with you. A nurse makes you comfortable. A nurse encourages you and helps you to feel better. A nurse will hold your hand. A nurse is sympathetic.

We understand the need for a doctor; but we often prefer the nurse.

People are like that. The apostle Paul understood this. His patient was the church at a city in Greece called Thessalonika. But instead of going to the church and barking out orders, making a diagnosis and calling for surgery, he and his friend went to the church like nurses. They were "gentle ... like a nurse tenderly caring for her own children."

This is a good lesson for us when we try to help others. People generally don't respond well to a friend who likes to explain what is wrong with you, and what you need to do. People like friends who have empathy, who are supportive, who spend time with them in their hour of need.

Most of us are called to be nurses, not doctors. We are called to weep with those who weep, to bear the burdens of others and to say an encouraging word.

Today, let's practice our nursing!

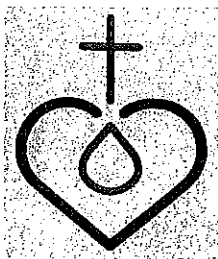

Prayer: Loving God, give me sympathy and encouragement to share with others. Amen. Oc

Trunk or Treat... In light of the uncertainties of Halloween during the midst of covid-19, we have decided to have our first ever Trunk or Treat celebration to give kids a safe alternative to door to door trick or treating. On Saturday, October 31st from 3-5 PM, we are inviting children (in costume) to come to the St. John School parking lot where the walk from car to car and receive goodies in a safe, controlled atmosphere. The congregation can help in a couple of ways. First, you can donate a bag of wrapped candy to be handed out to the kids. There will be collection bin in the card room at church. Second, if you would like to hand candy out, you can decorate the trunk of your car and be here on the 31st to hand the candy to the Trunk or Treaters. Feel free to wear a costume as well. This should be a lot of fun and a great way to allow St. John kids and other community children a good alternative to door to door trick or treating.

*"For all those who exalt themselves
will be humbled, and those who humble themselves will be exalted."*

LWML NEWS

The LWML met on Monday, September 21st at church. Our Fall Retreat was canceled, but we still collected baby items and we will get them to the co-op at the Fort Wayne Seminary. Thanks to everyone who donated. We have a very generous congregation! As of right now, our Fall Rally is still on and we have another in-gathering we are asking the congregation to help with. We are collecting hand/body lotion, denture cleaning tabs, denture cream, toothbrush, toothpaste, comb, shampoo, body wash and large print activity books. The items collected will be used at the servant event to make care packages for nursing homes. Our Rally is October 24th so we need all donations dropped in the bins in the card room by Thursday, October 22nd. Thanks in advance for helping us with this project.

Ladies Aid News...

President Robin Henriksen opened the September 3 meeting with a devotion on dealing with change from Proverbs 18.

The secretary's report was read and approved. A thank you was read from Linda Hertzberg.

The treasurer reported the new refrigerator for the lower level kitchen was ordered and paid for in June. Thank you to Alice Janes, Deb Schubert and Luci Verheyen for their donations towards this purchase. We are still waiting for its arrival.

The birthday song was sung to the gals who had birthdays from April - September.

President Robin Henriksen reported that the lower level painting has been completed.

The baptismal candles will be ordered by Treasurer Luci Verheyen.

A game was played and refreshments were served by Betty Dewhurst and Robin Henriksen. We thank Deb Schrader to the lovely sunflowers on the tables.

The next meeting will be Thursday, October 1 at 1 pm in the church lower level.

On Sept. 15, 2020 Joyce Parsons called our Altar Guild meeting to order with the Altar Guild Prayer.

There were 10 members present at our meeting.

The Secretary and Treasurers report were given and approved as well as the Sunshine report.

Robin Hendriksen explained the situation with the new basement refrigerator, due to Covid it has taken longer to get the appliance from the factory. It has been purchased with donations and memorial funds thru the Ladies Aid.

Joyce Parsons purchased mums for the altar. It was voted to re-reimburse her for them as the first 2 would not open.

Our supply of candle oil has been delivered.

Due to the fact that our Lenten supper was cancelled, it was suggested that the Thriven funds for it be used for baskets for shut ins. Kelly Munding will take care of this.

Pastor has now been able to acquire communion kits for shut ins that consist of small trays with glasses of wine and wafer. This will help for shut ins at the nursing homes.

The elders have suggested that on our communion cup trays we should leave 2 spaces between cups so fingers will not touch the other cups in the trays. This should help with the separation of cups.

As new business, Joyce announce that she will retire as president in Nov. Amy Radliff is considering stepping up from the vice president job to president.

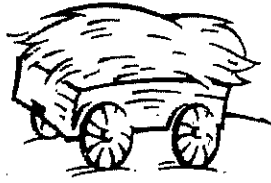

Christmas decorating of the church this year was discussed. It is Altar Guild's year to decorate the church.

We closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Respectfully submitted by Judy Mehn

DID YOU KNOW.....

One of the world's largest commercially available puzzles is now on permanent display in the Fellowship Hall of our church. The 51,300-piece puzzle measures over 28 feet long by 6½ feet high. It features 27 beautiful images of wonders from our planet Earth. Each picture contains 1,900 pieces. Some of the pictures shown are the Neuschwanstein Castle in Germany, St Basil's Cathedral in Russia, the Great Barrier Reef, the Great Pyramids of Giza, Machu Picchu in Peru and Niagara Falls. You're probably wondering who in the world would take on a project like this!?

In early April, when we realized that the pandemic was going to shut down our country for an extended period of time, Ally Wendt discovered the puzzle on the internet and approached her Dad, Jason, about taking on the challenge. The box, weighing over 60 pounds, and containing 27 individual puzzles, arrived a few days later and on April 21st work began. Jason and Ally were the main puzzle people. Jason's wife Susan, an essential worker at Theda Care-Berlin, would open each bag and flip all the pieces over. Each picture had a black border around it and 5-year-old Ryan would help his mother gather all the black pieces together. Each puzzle was a difficult challenge-some taking a couple of days to finish while others took much longer. Grandma Karen was recruited to help and managed to put 3 puzzles together by herself. She will attest to the fact that they were all extremely hard. On August 20th the last puzzle was finished. Now, Jason and his dad, Bob, were faced with another challenge: How do you hang a 28-foot puzzle on a wall? First they built a wooden frame and then, one by one, the individual puzzles were locked together and glued onto the frame. The entire 28-foot long puzzle was then lifted and mounted on the wall in our Fellowship Hall.

Eighteen-year-old Ally, a former student at St John, is now a freshman at UW Eau Claire studying to be a high school math teacher. Graduating third in the class of 2020, she enjoys doing crafts, watching movies, traveling (has been to Guatemala) and spending time with her family. Her dream is to return to be a math teacher at good old Berlin High and to see the world at every opportunity. Jason has a culinary degree from Fox Valley Technical College-Appleton and a BA in Hospitality and Tourism from UW-Stout. He is a chef in our BHS kitchen, serving breakfast and lunch to over 200 middle school and high school students every day. He also drives school bus in the afternoon; following in the foot-steps of his Grandpa Don Parsons, who was a bus driver in Berlin for over 40 years. At St John, Jason has served as an Elder and treasurer. He was also a 4K aide for several years and works in the kitchen for our Chop Suey Suppers. Jason and Ally are the 5th and 6th generation in our family to belong to St John.

The Wendt family would like to thank Ken Hansen for helping attach the Plexiglas, Curt Snow for his help building the frame and the following very strong men who lifted and helped fasten the 800 pound puzzle to the wall: Ken Fink, Jeff Hadel, Shawn Kaufman, Ken Keenlance, Bob Radliff, Mike Schrader, Jacob Shapiro, Cory Schakow and Paul Youngbauer.

Running a Cleaning Station

Many of the jobs in the world are service-oriented. In the case of the bluestreak cleaner wrasse (Labroides dimidiatus), its ecosystem role is to provide an exceptional cleaning service to various fish. Its behaviors, characteristics, and impact are fascinating and indicative of design.

Adult bluestreak cleaner wrasses typically grow to be 4 inches (10 cm) long. Their elongated body has a brilliant blue streak with a broad black band extending from the tip of the snout to the end of the tail. Bluestreak wrasses are known to change color based on mood. For example, if the wrasse is caught on a hook and line, it may rapidly change color due to stress.

If there is one place in the ocean to look for the beautiful bluestreak cleaner wrasse, it's at cleaning stations. Those stations are populated by other cleaner wrasses and many different visiting fish. When a fish arrives at the cleaning station, the cleaner wrasse greets it by performing a dance-like motion. Visiting fish can immediately recognize the wrasse's intentions by seeing its lateral stripe and its movement patterns. The "client fish" adopts a specific pose that allows access to its body surface, gills, and mouth. The wrasse then cleans the fish by consuming ectoparasites. We find it fascinating how both parties agree to the terms and both benefit.

A male bluestreak cleaner wrasse will defend a reef territory and attract females to the area. The male must catch the female's attention by performing a beautiful mating dance. The male fish practices external fertilization when the female releases her eggs into the water. Fertilized eggs become planktonic larvae that move freely with ocean currents. In this way, the bluestreak cleaner wrasses continue to provide services to other ocean creatures in a wide area.

The wrasse's service job is quite an amazing process when you think about it. An ordinary fish will stop and allow a stranger fish to remove parasites from its body, and even from its mouth. Both fish benefit from the arrangement, and God's design of life is evident.
